

Reread your writing sample, take stock of the feedback you received, and the highlighting colour codes. Then, answer the questions below.

- In an affirmative statement, name 1 item that you are happy with / proud of (e.g. “I used precise, sophisticated words” or “I had original ideas and expressed them clearly”).
>
- Does this item fit into...
 - analysis (content and structure)?
 - language (word choice, grammar, spelling, ...)?
- Now, name 1 item that was challenging, or that you wish to focus on more in the future (e.g. “I’m not sure when to use commas” or “I want to make my paragraphs more focused so my ideas are easier to understand”).

- Does this item fit into...
 - analysis (content and structure)?
 - language (word choice, grammar, spelling, ...)?
- What do you need to successfully achieve this? (e.g. “I need to review the grammar rule” or “I need to learn more about paragraph structure and how to apply it.”)
>
- Can you achieve this...
 - alone?
 - with teacher support?
- How confident are you that you will be able to tackle this challenge and further enhance your writing? Copy and paste the emoji below as appropriate:
1 smiley = not so confident, 5 smileys = 5 very confident

- If you had had more time to complete the writing task, what would have been most beneficial to you?
 - Spending it on gathering and planning my ideas
 - Spending it on writing itself, finding the best words and sentence structures
 - Spending it on revising for mistakes in spelling, grammar, or syntax
 - Something else:
